

Panda Antivirus Standard Terms and Conditions

1. DEFINITIONS

Service means the Panda Antivirus Security provided by iBurst in partnership with Panda.

2. DETAILS

These terms and conditions are subject to the iBurst Subscriber Standard Terms and Conditions.

The purpose of this service is to protect subscribers from exposure to viruses, and to provide spyware detection and a personal firewall. The subscriber acknowledges that he/she is aware that the service is available for a three-month trial period and thereafter on a month-to-month subscription. However, the subscriber may opt to purchase the service from the start without using the service for a trial period.

This service will be available to subscribers as follows:

- The subscriber will purchase the service online by downloading the program from the iBurst website, www.iburst.co.za, where the file and instructions for download will be available.
- Once the subscriber has activated the service, the normal billing process will include this service as an item.
- The service will be available on a month-to-month subscription, and cancellation of the service requires one calendar month's notice, for which charges will be pro-rated.

3. DETAILS

Service support will be delivered by the 24-hour iBurst Helpdesk, available at 0877 20 20 20.

